Scotland's Best Value Salmon Fishing

STOBHALL

STOBHALL

Getting There

Drive through Stanley and then turn right towards Blairgowrie at the “Y” junction (Point 1).

There are two beats at Stobhall, Upper and Lower. If on the Lower beat, after taking the right fork at Point 1, you will cross a narrow, hump backed bridge over the railway. About 300 yards after the bridge there is a private road on the right (Point 2) – take that road and follow road and signs all the way to the Lower fishing hut.

If on the Upper beat, continue on the main road after the bridge. You will then come to a very tight “Z” bend and then, 300 yards further on, Innernyte Farm. Opposite the Farm, Point 3, is a track. Turn right onto the track and follow it to the Upper fishing hut.

Parking

There is plenty of parking space at both huts.

Beat Description

From Stobhall's website: "The water is varied and ranges from some wonderful fast runs offering first class fly-fishing, to deeper pots which hold fish at all water heights and are perhaps more suited to spinning.

The beat as a whole fishes best given a rise in water.

On the Lower Beat is the awesome Campsie Linn and the legendary Linn Pool. At Campsie Linn, the highest volume waterfall in Britain, the whole of the Tay is forced through a narrow gap in a rock ledge and gushes out into a huge boiling cauldron. Set against the backdrop of Stobhall Castle, Taymount House and steeply sloping wooded banks the scenery is positively breath-taking.

In the spring the Linn Pool is one of the best casts on the whole Tay, especially if the river is high and fish are queuing to run the Linn. Stobhall has always had a reputation for big fish. In the past many of the Tay's monsters were caught here. Several fish over 50 lbs were landed from the Major's Cast early in the 20th century."

Stobhall is kindly donated to PDAA by the syndicate and we have the benefit of highly skilled ghillies who will place members in the best positions to fish, including the boats.
